1. Taipei 101

With a height of 509 meters, Taipei 101 (Taipei Financial Center) is the world’s tallest building. The building was designed by C.Y. Lee. The idea for Taipei 101 comes from Chinese tradition. The building was made to look like a piece of bamboo or a flower opening up to the sky. It is divided into eight parts, because “eight” is believed to be a lucky number.

Taipei 101 has 101 floors above the ground and five floors below. It has the world’s fastest elevators, which can bring people to the 89th floor in only 39 seconds. From the top level, people can look around every part of the city.
1. Taipei 101 has eight parts because __________.
   (A) such a design makes the building beautiful.
   (B) traditionally Chinese people consider the number ‘eight’ to be a lucky number.
   (C) the government limits the number of floors of a building.

   (C) A commonly used phrase.  (D) A very useful book for learning English.

9. What does an idiom book teach us?
   (A) How to learn Chinese well.  (B) How to write a novel.
   (C) How to cook.  (D) How to use idioms.

---

Do you like to learn English? Whether or not you enjoy learning it, English is not always an easy language to learn. For example, many people are never sure when to use prepositions like “at,” “in,” or “on.” In addition, sometimes when some words are put together to be used as phrases, they turn out to mean something very different; for example, “to die away” means something very different from “to die.” So what should we do? Well, buying a good idiom book is a good idea. An idiom book talks about idioms, which are commonly used phrases. By learning with an idiom book, you can know how and when to use phrases and prepositions correctly.
